Brief Summary of the Session:	A guest lecture on the topic "Intellectual Property Rights for Academicians" was organized on 24th February, 2026 by Internal Quality Assurance Cell and Department of Management Studies. The session aimed to provide comprehensive knowledge about various forms of Intellectual Property Rights and their significance in today's knowledge-driven economy. The programme began with a warm introduction of the guest speaker, Adv. Deepa Sarada, who is a renowned legal expert in the field of Intellectual Property Law. Her vast experience and practical insights added great value to the session. Adv. Sarada explained in detail the different types of IPRs, including Patents, Copyrights, Trademarks, Industrial Designs, Geographical Indications, and Trade Secrets. She elaborated on their meaning, features, registration process, and legal protection. The session became highly engaging as she supported her explanations with real-life examples and case studies, helping students and teachers understand how IPR works in practical situations. She also highlighted the importance of protecting innovation and creativity in business and professional life. She narrated the significance of IPR in the life of academicians. The lecture was informative and interactive, encouraging students and teachers to ask questions and participate actively. It enhanced their awareness about legal rights related to intellectual creations. The programme concluded with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Mrs. Meenal Zawar. She expressed sincere gratitude to the guest speaker for her valuable time and insightful session. She also appreciated the efforts of everyone involved in organizing the event.
